

"JUPE PLUVE" ROUTS MARYLAND SOLDIERS

War Game of First and Fifth Ended Suddenly by Storm. Third Awaits Cars.

MAULE PASS, Tex., Sept. 3.—On the double-quick they came running into camp here after a fifteen-mile hike. But it was not because they were so fresh and fine that they wanted to run—they were a horrible driving rain pelting the hiking First and Fifth, of Maryland.

And as this was going on, the Third Battalion of the Fourth Regiment was waiting somberly in the railroad station for some Pullman cars that had played maverick and refused to turn up.

They had been waiting on the cars ever since early in the morning, and their thoughts were of a huge more stuporous than roseate. With the driving storm pelting down, it seemed likely that they would not get away for many hours.

Troop A went out to the rifle range Saturday morning, the boys arising at 4:30 a. m., and going direct to the range. They stayed there until the storm came up, and practiced at various distances. Many good records were made.

Captain Vinup has succeeded Captain Stanbury as head of the Ambulance Corps of Maryland, Captain Stanbury having been transferred to the field hospital. The changes have been contemplated for several days.

The First and Fifth were both playing the war game to their best ability, and each was on the point of capturing the other—when the storm and old Jupiter Pluvius put them both to flight. The First had discovered "the enemy" in overwhelming numbers, and had decided upon a strategic retreat.

The men had gone out under sealed orders, which were read to them by Major Robins, after the men had marched seven and a half miles onto the Carrizo Spring road. They had killed a dozen rattlers in the march, and two owls.

But when the storm broke on them the game changed from a strategic retreat to a rout and a scurry for cover.

Thus ended Saturday's war game.

ALASKANS WILL GET MAIL BY AEROPLANE

Postoffice to Establish Air Service Between Seward and Nome.

Announcement was made today by Congressman Murray Hulbert of New York that the Postoffice Department soon is to establish its first aeroplane mail delivery route.

The mail is to be transported by aeroplane between Seward and Nome, Alaska, according to Mr. Hulbert, who is today as a distributing center for interior deliveries.

"My interest in the matter," said Mr. Hulbert, "is due to the initiative of residents in my district who have formed the first flying yacht club and have taken a decided interest in the development of aeronautics for commercial purposes."

Mr. Hulbert says the Postoffice Department has received an acceptable bid from Earl L. Byers for the delivery of mail by aeroplane in Alaska, and that a semi-weekly service is to be furnished. The reduced cost of such delivery, he says, will amount to $34,558 per annum.

"Many days will be saved by the aeroplane deliveries," said Mr. Hulbert. "The time of transit of mail in winter from Cordova by Fairbanks to Nome is approximately thirty days. The time from Seward to Iditarod (aeroplane) and Iditarod to Nome will be only eighteen days, thus saving considerable time in the interior deliveries. From Iditarod the mail will be sent by dog sleds to other interior points."

Lightning Spared Mule.

SELBYVILLE, Ind., Sept. 3.—Struck by lightning, a mule which Asa Pilchard was unharnessing had both its ears burned off, while Pilchard was knocked unconscious. The flash also set fire to the barn, struck a cow and killed it, and then traveled down a wire fence and killed three hogs. During the fire another mule and cow were burned to death. When the storm was over all Pilchard had left was one burnt-eared mule. His barn and everything in it had been destroyed.

MR. MIDDLECAMP GOT DIZZY SPELLS; WOULD ALMOST FALL

Electrician for the Standard Electric Elevator Company at Towson, Md., Relates How Dreck Cured Him.

"I think I had about the worst trouble for any man in my business that it would be possible to pick—if one were selecting troubles," said Mr. Middlecamp.

"In elevator work dizziness is about the worst trouble a man can have. It may mean a fatal accident, you know! I had dizzy spells that came on without warning, used to get dancing spots in front of my eyes and almost fell on several occasions. I also had pains in my back and limbs—headaches and suffered a good deal with gastritis after every meal. The most violent pains being centered in my stomach.

"I've bought and taken two bottles of Dreck, and I'm only sorry I didn't do it long ago. I haven't the slightest fear now, at any height, for the dizzy trouble never bothers me a bit—headaches are all gone, and no more 'jumping specks' in my eyes when I try to look at anything. I can eat right and plenty, enjoy every mouthful, and never have an ache or pain in my stomach. Seems to me every body ought to know about Dreck—for I'm sure there are a lot of other people with the same kind of trouble—Dreck's ready to fix them up O. K. again—only they don't know it."

Dreck is sold in all the O'Donnell Drug Stores. Allen Drug Store in Alexandria, Bury's Drug Store in Anacostia.

MANY CELEBRATIONS PLANNED TOMORROW

Labor Day Will Be Observed by Varied Program of Outdoor Events.

A varied array of fairs, entertainments and jollifications is scheduled for tomorrow by the many organizations here, and there will be spent a plenty for the holiday crowds.

The list includes in part automobile races, a regatta, picnics, outings, carnivals, a tag day, and other festivities. The members of the Central Labor Union will hold an outing to Chesapeake Beach, where both speeches and races will be part of the program.

Automobile races will be held at Benning under the auspices of the American Auto Racing Association, while a regatta on the Potomac is to be held in the afternoon. This is the annual regatta of the Middle States Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and is held under the auspices of the Potomac Boat Club.

Hyattsville Celebration.

Hyattsville will be the scene of a festive day when her Labor day celebration is under way. It is under the direction of the ladies' auxiliary to Company F, First Maryland Infantry, and the Hyattsville fire department. The committee in charge says there will be something doing every minute of the day. A baseball game is to start things going at 10 o'clock in the morning, and there will be races for fat and lean.

Young and old, Congressman Sydney Mudd and Jackson H. Rainey will both address the voters at the Labor Day celebration.

Mt. Rainier Carnival.

Mt. Rainier expects to run Hyattsville a close second in the matter of its carnival.

Tomorrow is the first day of a two weeks' carnival. The first number on the program is the selection of a courtly youth and hissona miss for King and Queen of Mt. Rainier—for two weeks. They must be young, graceful, courtly, intelligent, and regal.

Congressman Sidney Mudd and Mr. Rainey are to speak at Mt. Rainier also.

A tag day for the benefit of the families of guardsmen of the District National Guard will be held at Ivy City by the members of the Ivy City Citizens' Association, all proceeds to be turned over to the Citizens' Welfare Association.

Tomorrow is a legal holiday with the Government departments closed, though the members of the District National Guard will be on duty.

The concert at the Marine barracks of the Marine Band will be omitted tomorrow.

COP SWIMMERS RACE DESPITE COOL WAVE

Bathing Suit-Clad Bluecoats Undismayed by Chilling Winds.

Undaunted by the cool wave which struck Washington this morning, sending chills up and down the spines of the early church-goers, three dozen bluecoats are arrayed in scanty bathing suits, ready for the second annual lifesaving and swimming meet of the Police Department, to be held at the municipal bathing beach at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The life-saving events will be spectacular. Major Pullman has offered three medals—gold, silver, and bronze—for the men making the three highest number of points in the nine events.

The meet will be directed by Police-Master Frederick J. Bruner, in charge of life-saving work for the department. Major Pullman and other District officials probably will attend.

Cows Have Hopes.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 3.—Cows have their hopes and ambitions like human beings, and when they go to their meals they should be fed in courses, with a cocktail as an appetizer and a dessert for the finish. This is the assertion of State Senator Alton T. Roberts, of this city, who is looking after the welfare of a fancy dairy.

Asks to Serve Sentence After Judge Let Him Off

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 3.—County officials were aghast when a man walked into the sheriff's office and asked to be locked up. The man was John Parkas, South Akron saloonkeeper, arrested for keeping a disorderly house. Judge Seiber sentenced him to five days in jail, but let him off when he said his wife was sick.

"She's better now, and I want to serve my time," Parkas said. He was locked up.

Two Boys Buried Alive While Playing Mexicans

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Two little boys playing war on an imitation Mexican battlefield up in the Bronx today were killed when the cave they had tunneled beneath "Hill No. 480" collapsed and buried them under tons of rocky earth.

An emergency squad of police held back frantic mothers trying to fight their way to where the police, firemen and neighborhood citizens showed through 15 feet of earth to the floor of the cave.

"The pursuit of Villa," forever ended in "tropic" armed with wooden guns and swords and tinsel hats stood around and saw the bodies of Raphael Nargia, 11, and Pasquale Nasta, 12, and the unconscious form of Michael Nargia, 11, lifted from the hole.

Daily since the departure of the militia for the border there have been "bloody battles" on this vacant lot.
